

Share Report Abuse Next Blog»

James Bawden

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 2011

The One Anniversary Of 9/11 Special You Must Catch

I certainly do remember 9/11.

I was working away at my desk at the Toronto Star that afternoon and went to the window to see what every one was shouting about.

I looked out at Lake Ontario and saw the sky was clogged with American jumbo jets --every U.S. flight east of the Mississippi had been ordered out of American air space --to Toronto or Montreal airports.

So I get bad vibes watching all these anniversary specials.

Until I popped in a Canadian made one that offered insights and hope --and a truly unique twist. It's titled Hero Dogs Of 9/11 and amazingly the hourlong documentary offers a twist on that day I had never heard of --the canines that tirelessly worked the field of carnage. And some of them even perished in the line of duty.

The hour is seamless which is astounding because producer Tanya Kelen of kelencontent only started working on it in July.

I had no idea over 300 dogs were involved in search and rescue missions that day and the days after. Some were involved in search and rescue missions and doing outstanding work. Others offered solace to tired and despairing crews who were fighting against time to search the ruins for survivors.

Individual dogs get profiled including the security dog Sirius left in a basement cage in the World Trade Center as his owner walked upstairs to try and offer help.

The resulting collapse of the towers meant Sirius was a casualty --mourned by the officer to this day.

And there's the seeing eye dog, Nikki, who calmly and methodically guided her scared and blind owner down flights of stairs to safety, stopping occasionally to allow firemen to walk up the stairs --they would never come down alive.

We see how many dogs succumbed to the same ailments as humans and needed medical care --over 100 dogs would be treated in the next few weeks. Many had to be fitted with canine dog pads because of the smoking heat emanating from the fallen steel beams.

And we see how arduous the training is to turn a dog into an expert search and rescue dog--it takes a good 18 months.

Some are cadaver dogs trained to sniff dead bodies in rubble. Others can catch the scent of living people who need to be helped. And some are simply there as therapy dogs.

There's Nikki, the Golden Retriever, who guided the scared blind man out of the towers. And there's a marker for Sirius who also gave his life.

Producer Kelen has expertly recreated many scenes interweaving actual footage with recreations so masterfully I couldn't spot any seams. Some of it is so scary viewers seem stuck right there in the stairwells. And she's also highlighted the true saga of one of the few humans who actually survived and might have died in the rubble had not search dogs located her. Incredibly she has gone on to have two beautiful children.

ABOUT ME

James Bawden

Jim Bawden has been a TV critic for 40 years starting at The Globe And Mail in 1970. In 1971 he became TV critic at The Spectator and in 1980 TV columnist at The Toronto Star, Canada's largest newspaper, retiring in 2008. He has written widely on movies and TV for TV Guide, Films In Review, Classic Images and Film Fan Monthly.

View my complete profile

BLOG ARCHIVE

▼ 2011 (140)

► November (1)

► October (15)

▼ September (20)

Explaining The Experts.

I'll Watch A "New" 1943 Movie

Some things just don't mix. Like Steven Spielberg...

Pan Am Still Might Make It

The New TV Season: Flops And Hits

Boardwalk Empire Comes Roaring Back

A Farewell To

FAVOURITE WEBSITES

- tv banter
- stilltalkintv
- tv by the numbers
- Movie Crazy
- tv addict
- TV, eh
- tv feeds my family
- Gina Mallet

We also visit with a reunion of the search dogs and the introduction of new dogs --many of the canine heroes have passed away in the subsequent decade. Nikki died in 2004.

I came away from this wonderful hour not depressed but uplifted by its life affirming message. Hero Dogs Of 9/11 is simply stated the best 9/11 special I've seen tso far and is highly recommended.

HERO DOGS OF 9/11 PREMIERES ON ANIMAL PLANET SUND. SEPT. 11 AT 7 P.M.

MY RATING: ****.

Posted by james bawden at 12:13 AM

0 comments:

Post a Comment

Newer Post

Home

Older Post

Subscribe to: Post Comments \(Atom\)

- All My Children
- New Prime Suspect Just Doesn't Make It
- The Fall Season: Ratings Winners And Losers
- Sheen Really Missed On The Revamped Two And A Half...
- John A: A Resolutely Canadian TV Drama
- So Who Cares About The Emmy Awards?
- Ron James Returns For His Third Season
- Remembering Cliff Robertson
- The One Anniversary Of 9/11 Special You Must Catch...
- Christine Cushing's Fearless In The Kitchen Moves ...
- Scott McGillivray Is Back With Income Property
- Against The Wall: New "Canadian" Drama On Bravo!
- Two More Drama Series Return On Sunday
- Why Warehouse 13 Is Moving To Showcase
- ▶ August \(11\)
- ▶ July \(8\)
- ▶ June \(14\)
- ▶ May \(15\)
- ▶ April \(14\)
- ▶ March \(14\)
- ▶ February \(10\)
- ▶ January \(18\)
- ▶ 2010 \(147\)

▶ 2009 (123)

Simple template. Template images by suprun. Powered by Blogger.